Personal Profile

I am passionate about frontend and personal development. I try to promote a progressive way of life through my example. I often get involved in social causes and volunteer and I consider that only because of volunteering I understood how important teamwork is. Now I clearly understand that the best team is the one where, we all are one family. It is very important for me to communicate openly and to ask for help when I need it. I define myself as a team player, I am responsible, loyal and determined to perform. I think I have the knowledge and determination to succeed in this role.
